Cassidy Turley San Diego Facilitates Transaction

SAN DIEGO (June 12, 2012) – Cassidy Turley San Diego, the region's market leader in commercial real estate services, today announced that Brooklyn Girl Eatery has signed a 10-year lease valued at $1.6 million for retail space at 1Mission in Mission Hills.

Brooklyn Girl Eatery leased 4,808 square feet of space at 1Mission. The full-service restaurant, bar and gourmet market serves breakfast, lunch, dinner and post-dinner treats featuring casual cuisine created with locally-sourced ingredients. Brooklyn Girl is the newest concept created by highly-acclaimed and longtime San Diego restaurateurs, Michael and Victoria McGeath.

1Mission is a highly-awarded, mixed-use residential/retail enclave developed by CLB Partners. The project is located at 845 Fort Stockton Drive. The center brings together the meticulous restoration of a turn-of-the-century commercial block and a new five-story residential mid-rise. In 2010, the property was awarded the Gold Nugget Award, which is the oldest and most prestigious national building design competition of its kind.

Cassidy Turley's Michael Burton and Danny Fitzgerald were the sole brokers involved in the transaction.
